

CITY OF BURNABY
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR
DEREK R. CORRIGAN
MAYOR

November 10, 2016

To Whom It May Concern,

The City of Burnaby has carefully reviewed and discussed the merits of the proposed Pacific Academic Institute of Chiropractic (PAIC) and understands the need for education and research in British Columbia related to chiropractic that will focus on spine related health and healthcare challenges. The proposed facility and related programs will address the need for prevention and access to care and will help greatly in the community and region in treating people with spine related health and disability issues.

The scope of PAIC's work will be tremendously valuable in terms of providing a world-class research facility and also acting as a not-for-profit, multidisciplinary primary care center that will serve over 25,000 staff, students, and UniverCity residents that study, work, and live in Burnaby. Additionally, the establishment of the PAIC facility will allow for greater collaboration and joint research opportunities with Fortius Sport and Health located in Burnaby, in focusing on chiropractic, physiotherapy, registered massage therapy, and sports medicine healthcare.

The City of Burnaby supports the work and goals of Pacific Academic Institute of Chiropractic and wishes the organization all the best in its efforts to establish this important facility.

Sincerely,
